

Jody Davids
Retired Global CIO, PepsiCo

Jody Davids' impressive career spans three-decades across several industries. She is known for developing technology functions for large organizations. Her roles include EVP Global Shared Services/CIO for Cardinal Health; CIO, SVP Global Business Services at Best Buy; CIO of Agrium; SVP/Global CIO for PepsiCo. While at PepsiCo, Jody oversaw the delivery of all information technology at PepsiCo through a network of 3,000 IT associates worldwide. Prior to joining PepsiCo in 2016, she served as CIO for Agrium Inc. She has also previously worked at Nike and Apple. Currently she is the Board Director for Premier, Inc., a healthcare improvement company headquartered in Charlotte, NC. Jody was recognized as a Notable Woman in Tech 2019 by Crain's New York Business. She is also a board advisor for non-profit The Eyes of Freedom: Lima Company Memorial.

Jody recognizes the need for a work/life effectiveness and shares that attitude with her teams. "I learned it's OK to let life intrude a little on your career. People are healthier and perform better if they can see the whole you." Jody believes everyone will have a different way of assembling their different responsibilities in their lives, with a focus on effectiveness.
